BULLDOZED BEGGS.

The Clan-na-Gael Leader Tells Tales.

He Says the State's Attorney Tried to Intimidate Him.

He Denies Knowing Anything About the Cronin Murder.

Other Eastern Dispatches—Denver Journalists at Loggerheads With a Judge—The Coming G.A.R. Encampment.

By Telegraph to the Times.

CHICAGO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Somewhat of a sensational move was made in the Cronin case today. John F. Beggs, the imprisoned senior guardian of Camp No. 20, Clan-na-Gael, filed a new petition for a writ of habeas corpus, giving as a reason why he should be set at liberty, that he has been jailed and indicted solely in the hope that he would thus be forced to turn State's evidence. The testimony expected of him, he alleges, has no foundation in fact. He says that while he was illegally imprisoned and secreted from his friends, immediately preceding his indictment he was taken before the State's Attorney, who tried to induce him to make certain statements, the facts so desired not being within Beggs's knowledge, and that in conversation the State's Attorney said in substance: "By the newspapers you are condemned already; the only way, or the best way out of it is to stand with us;" meaning thereby to stand with the prosecution and further stating in the conversation, "If you will accept employment from us we will pay you for it."

Beggs responded in substance: "If you mean by standing with you that I shall give you testimony by which any person or persons might be convicted of the murder of Dr. Cronin, I cannot accept your employment, for the reason that I have no facts which would tend to convict or even cast suspicion upon any person."

Soon after this an indictment was returned, and the petition adds that since then there has been most persistent and determined efforts on the part of police officers and the State's Attorney's office to compel relator to divulge certain alleged facts stated in an anonymous letter received by the State's Attorney regarding the alleged action in Camp 20 on Dr. Cronin's case. These facts relator has failed to give, for the reason that they do not exist. The State's Attorney, having stated that he did not desire at the present time to make public his case, Beggs offers to have the hearing take place privately. Judge Horton will hear arguments on the petition tomorrow.

WINNIPEG, July 15.—Isaac Campbell, counsel for Burke, says the prisoner will be brought up one day this week upon a writ of habeas corpus, when the whole case will be reargued before another judge.

COOLIES IN TRANSIT.

Diplomatic Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Acting Secretary Batcheller had a telegraphic correspondence with C. P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, today in regard to the case of the 13 Chinese coolies who recently arrived at New Orleans, en route to China via San Francisco. The Collector held that their landing was prohibited by the Chinese exclusion act, while the railroad contended they were entitled to the privilege of transit through the United States territory as tourists.

Acting Secretary Batcheller informed Huntington that the Collector's action was in accordance with previous decisions of the department, but he would comply with the request of the transportation company to postpone further action until the question can be presented in a diplomatic way through the Chinese legation at Washington. In the meantime the Collector is instructed to detain the Chinese, but not to allow them to land.

CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT.

A Denver Judge Making War on Newspaper Men.

DENVER, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] This afternoon papers were served upon ex-Senator Hill, owner of the Denver Republican; K. G. Cooper, its manager, and William S. Stapleton, managing editor, citing them to appear before Judge Stuart of the District Court on Wednesday morning to answer to a charge of contempt. The offense is claimed to be in the publication of certain editorials in the Republican which reflect upon the actions of Judge Stuart in issuing a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Deputy Secretary of State Wyatt, who has been sentenced to 10 days' imprisonment by Judge Stone of the Criminal Court for contempt before him. Wyatt made the affidavit upon which the papers for the arrest of Messrs. Hill, Cooper and Stapleton were issued.

THE ENCAMPMENT.

Milwaukee Will Go Ahead with Preparations for the Veterans.

MILWAUKEE (Wis), July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] At a meeting of the Common Council tonight, a resolution was adopted not to abandon the Grand Army Encampment preparations on account of the action of eight departments, but to invite the veterans to come anyhow. FRENCH CENTENNIAL

IN COMMEMORATION OF THE FALL OF THE BASTILLE.

A Most Important Affair and One Highly Creditable to the Franco-American Colony — The Street Parade — Literary Exercises — Fireworks and Salutes.

The one hundredth anniversary of the fall of the Bastille was celebrated by the French citizens of Los Angeles yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. Every arrangement had been made to render the affair a success, and the celebration passed off without a single unpleasant incident occurring to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

The streets through which the procession was to pass had been handsomely decorated, those in the French quarter being especially elaborate, and almost every house had the stars and stripes and tri-color of France displayed side by side. At the corner of Aliso and Alameda streets, from which point the procession was to start, a large banner was suspended across the street, bearing the inscription, "Centenaire Republique Francaise, 1789-1889, Liberte," and at various points along the line of march smaller banners, with appropriate mottoes, were displayed. Altogether, the display of bunting was highly creditable, and a compliment to the managers of the celebration.

The exercises commenced yesterday morning, when the day was ushered in with a national salute of 21 guns at sunrise. There was nothing further until the procession began to form at the corner of Aliso and Alameda streets, which was some time in advance of the hour set for moving, when the place presented an animated appearance, several thousand people having gathered in the vicinity—every window and housetop being occupied, besides the hundreds on the sidewalks.

At 1 o'clock most of the organizations that were to take part were in line, when another salute of 21 guns was fired. Then there was a wait of about half an hour, when the final preliminaries were arranged, and the bugle sounded the advance. There was another annoying wait after the first [illegible] Alameda street, caused by a long freight train passing up, which cut the procession in two, but this soon passed by, when the march was resumed, the formation of the column being as follows:

Detachment of Mounted Police.
Platoon of Police on Foot.
Grand Marshal Edward Amar of San Pedro.
Chief of Staff A. C. Roques.
General Staff.
Aides de Camp, mounted, 45 in number.

Second Division.
Chief, J. Puyfourcat.
Second Detachment of Seventh Regiment Band.
Garibaldi Band.
Allegorical car of 33 provinces of France, represented by 33 young ladies in costume of the time, surrounded by figures symbolical of Agriculture, the Arts, Industry and Commerce. Alsace and Lorraine represented by Mlles. Mary and Antoinette Ballade.
Carriages.
The French Consul and Mayor of Los Angeles.
Committee of the French Benevolent Society.
Foreign Consuls.
President of the Day and Orators.
City Council.
Invited Guests.
Citizens in Carriages.
French Peasantry.

The procession moved up Aliso street to Los Angeles, down Los Angeles to Third, on Third to Main, up Main to the Plaza, countermarched around the Plaza, thence down Main to Spring, down Spring to Fifth, thence to the Pavilion. The streets all along the line of march were crowded on both sides and the principal features were frequently applauded.

AT THE PAVILION.

On arriving at the Pavilion the procession disbanded, and most of those who had taken part filed inside. The stage had been reserved for the speakers and the girls who had taken part, together with the officers of the day, and had been handsomely decorated with flowers and bunting. The front seats had been reserved for the military and the band was placed in the orchestra. The general effect was very pleasing, and the stage presented a handsome picture.

The large auditorium was well filled, and as soon as all had been seated the president of the day, Dr. E. A. de Cailhal, advanced to the front of the stage, when the national flag and the tri-color of France were joined and the united colors were saluted, the entire assemblage arising, the ceremony being received with cheers. After music by the band, Dr. de Cailhal made the opening address in French, concluding by introducing J. D. Lynch of the Herald, who was received with cheers.

Mr. Lynch spoke for 20 minutes, being frequently interrupted by applause. He reviewed at some length the history of the fall of the Bastille, and spoke of the great work which had been accomplished for liberty and freedom in the city of Paris in this one day.

There was a short intermission, during which music was discoursed by the band, after which M. Georges Mesnager, the orator of the day, was introduced and delivered an eloquent discourse in French. Mr. Mesnager spoke 40 minutes, and when he concluded was heartily applauded.

"La Revolte a Memphis," a chorus by the Franco-American Lyrical Society, was then given in fine style, after which the "Star Spangled Banner" was played by the band, Miss Burg, who was on the programme for this number, from some cause failing to appear.

A tenor solo, "Lafayette in America," by M. Dupuy, president of the Lyrical Society, was the next number, after which there was a male chorus by the members of the Lyrical Society, which was followed by a solo, "Alla Stella Confidente," by Mlle. Eugenia Sormano, the young lady acquitting herself in fine style.

The interesting exercises were brought to a close by the singing of "La Marseillaise," by Mme. Francine Voron, in costume, most of the audience joining in the chorus. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed during the singing of the French national hymn, and when it was concluded the colors were again saluted, after which the large assemblage dispersed.

THE FIREWORKS.

Los Angeles street was crowded last evening from Chinatown back nearly to Commercial street, and abont 2000 people must have been present. The French and Spanish elements predominated, but all classes of citizens were well represented. The crowd was very respectable appearing and good natured, and though many of the tough element came to enjoy the display they were extremely orderly and well behaved.

The fireworks quite equalled in quality those given on the Fourth of July, though there were not so many of them. The bombs were fine and the set pieces and wheels drew forth much enthusiasm. Like those of the Fourth, however, some of them were imperfectly made and went off piecemeal, detracting from the effect. These drawbacks, however, were easily overlooked in the general merit of the display.

The finest pieces were the luminous fountains, the large triple revolving wheel, the flags of France and America and the cascade of fire. The great piece of the evening was the "Taking of the Bastille," which was finer than anything given on the Fourth. The crowd cheered it loudly while the band played the Marseillaise. Then came "Hail Columbia" for a finalé, and the gallant Frenchmen and their girls started for the ball at the Pavilion.

THE BALL.

After the fireworks there was a grand ball at the Pavilion, commencing at 9 o'clock and continuing until the early hours this morning. Good order was maintained and the affair passed off very pleasantly, the officers in charge exerting themselves to make their guests enjoy themselves.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES.

The officers and committees having in charge the arrangements for the celebration, and to whom the success is greatly due, is as follows:

Brousseau, P. Beaudry, George Denis, Leon Loeb, Edmond Roth, L. Sentous, H. Nadeau, T. E. Rowan, G. A. Dobinson, J. Frankenfield, Col. W. H. H. Russell.

NOTES.

The feature of the procession was the decorated wagons.

The police showed the effect of the drilling they have been receiving in the parade yesterday, and presented a fine appearance.

The Garibaldi Guards showed up well in their new uniforms.

Several thousand people were at the fireworks display last evening.

The ball was a great success.

The "French Peasantry," with the hay wagon, were a unique feature, and were thoroughly enjoyed after it was found out what they intended to represent.

The decorated wagons in the procession were the work of Fitzgerald & Atwood, decorators and painters. They were handsomely designed, and were generally admired.

Only Four Since Virgil.

[James Russell Lowell.]

Since Virgil there have been at most but four cosmopolitan authors—Dante, Cervantes, Shakespeare and Goethe. These have stood the test of being translated into all tongues, because the large humanity of their theme, and their handling of it, needed translation into none.

COUNCIL.

AN UNUSUALLY SHORT SESSION YESTERDAY.

Damages Allowed to Property-owners Injured by the Construction of the Downey-avenue Bridge—Estimates for the Fire and School Departments.

The City Council met yesterday in regular session, with President Frankenfield and Councilmen Summerland, McLain, Shafer, Wirsching, Van Dusen, Brown and Hamilton present.

The City Attorney reported that the amounts charged G. Perkins by the Citizens' Water Company are legal; and that the city has no legal right to the land on Macy street just east of the bridge, now in possession of the California Packing Company. He advised the Council to file a disclaimer of any right to the land.

The City Attorney asked that he have authority to procure an abstract of property along First street between Fort and Olive streets. Granted.

CITY ENGINEER'S REPORT.

The City Engineer reported that in the matter of the protest of Gen. Bouton against the grading of Yale street between College and Bernard streets, a majority of the frontage is represented; also that as to the petition of L. Sentous for a rebate of assessment for sidewalks on Upper Main street, the sidewalks and curb were laid in front of his property before the contract was let.

The recommendations of the Board of Public Works, already published, were adopted, except as to grading of Ward street, which was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Wirsching, Van Dusen and McLain.

The Zanja Committee recommended that the zanja on Washington street, west of Figueroa, be flumed, provided the property-owners pay one-half of the total cost.

The Zanja Committee reported on the petition of L. F. Quinby and others that the Council has no authority to sell water to parties outside of the city.

The Public Buildings Committee recommended that the contract for gas fixtures in the new City Hall be awarded to Myberg Bros., for $3770.66, and the contract for decorating the walls in oil or fresco work to Eckstrom & Strasburg, for $600. Approved.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Chief Engineer Strohm reported the following estimate of expenses of the fire department for the year beginning July 1, 1889, and ending June 30, 1890:

Salaries	$48,000
Rents	4,800
Feed, coal, wood, etc	6,300
Three horses	700
Fire alarm system	2,000
Five thousand feet new hose	5,000
New engine-houses	20,000
Total	$86,800

The engineer also reported that the new hook-and-ladder house is to be placed on the vacant lot next to the new City Hall, and Engine Company No. 3 and Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 stationed there, saving the city a rental of $135 a month.

The Finance Committee's recommendations, as published, were approved.

STREET WORK ORDERED.

Ordinances were passed, upon the recommendation of the City Attorney, to grade, gravel and curb Farragut street between Seventh and Ward streets; Calumet avenue between the east intersection of Edgeware road and Waters street; Waters street between Temple and Edgeware road, and Brent street between Temple street and Belleview avenue.

The Bridge Committee recommended that the County Board of Supervisors' offer of the covered bridge on Macy street be accepted; that John Weber be paid $50 for damage to his property on San Fernando street by the erection of the Downey avenue bridge; also, that the petition of W. A. Warner, for damages from the Downey avenue bridge, be denied; also, that the petition of Thomas Beaver, for the control of the disposition of sand in the Los Angeles river, be denied; also, that E. F. Spence be allowed $1225 for damages to property by the Downey avenue bridge; also, that the bid of Mr. Ledbetter for building Aliso street bridge be accepted. Approved.

The Board of Education reported the estimate of expenses for the ensuing year, already published, of $243,000, and for additional buildings, $65,000.

POLICE MATTERS.

The Police Commissioners recommended that M. V. Wright be paid $40 a month.

President Frankenfield stated that, under the old Council, Humane Officer Wright had received his pay of $40, and the society paid the rest. Now, there is no ordinance, and he has not received the pay.

There was some discussion over the matter, and the recommendation was not approved. The Police Commission was requested to give the police officers instructions to enforce the cruelty to animals' ordinance.

Henry Burrell, superintendent of the California Bridge Company, announced that the bridges over Downey avenue and First street will be finished Wednesday, and invited the Council to inspect them Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

ALISO-STREET SEWER.

Bids for the construction of the Aliso-street sewer were opened and referred to the Sewer Committee. They were from Frick Bros., John E. White, J. R. Dyer; bids were also opened for grading on Silver street by Frank Walker and Alexander Dallas, A. M. Austin; also bids to grade the western approaches to Downey-avenue bridge from Conrad Scherer, the California Paving Company, the Bituminous Lime Rock Company.

The following petitions were referred to their appropriate committees:

From Nathan Cole, Jr., asking that the tax sale of certain lots in the Grove tract be cancelled, because said lots are outside of the city limits.

From Henry Martz and others, asking for the grading of Hope street, between Pico and Washington streets.

From Mrs. William Ferguson and ladies of the Orphans' Home, asking to be exempted from the payment of any assessment on account of the construction of the Yale-street sewer.

From Mrs. J. A. Kirl and others, requesting the Council to take such action as will prevent people from excavating the brea along Lake Shore avenue, between Water and Patton streets, for fuel purposes.

From Michael Morrissey, asking an allowance in his case, if the property on New Main street is to be assessed by the foot, to pay for the building of a sewer on said street. Petitioner claims that he owns only 90.75-100 feet on New Main street, and about 27 feet 8 inches on Sotello street, and asks to be assessed only on his Sotello-street frontage.

From W. S. Boyd, asking to be reimbursed $15.79, amount paid on properties bought at the city tax sale, on the ground that there is no such block as "W" in Ela Hill's tract, or block 3, in Hancock's survey; also that the tax paid on property described in certificate No. 472½ had been paid by the Los Angeles Gas Company.

From E. C. Manning and others, residents of Union avenue, objecting to its name being changed to Varnell street from Diamond street south to Ward street, and requesting a reconsideration of the order heretofore made for the change.

From C. E. Glacius and others, to establish the grade of Water street, East Los Angeles, from the north line of Hoff street to the east line of Arroyo Seco street.

From Edward Duncan and others, to have Alpine street sewered in a separate contract from the district now in force, thereby enabling small contractors to compete for the work.

President Frankenfield announced that the Council will meet at 10 o'clock this morning to sit as a board of equalization.

The Council then adjourned.

THE PANEL CASE.

Preliminary Examination of the Harris Pair.

The preliminary examination of Frank Harris and his wife, charged with playing the panel game on Mrs. George Miller at the Ramona, was continued yesterday before Justice King, sitting for Justice Savage.

There were very few points brought out during the day that differed from the story as originally published in THE TIMES.

Mrs. Miller was on the stand again yesterday. She followed up her statement in regard to the matter, stating that she met Harris and his wife Monday evening for the purpose of making a settlement. At that interview Mrs. Harris said that she wanted the business fixed up. The meeting was at the house on Fort street, room No. 8.

Mrs. Miller stated that the reason she did not make an outcry was because she did not want any publicity about the matter. She said that when she went to room No. 51 in the Ramona she put her jewelry on the bureau, disrobed and retired for the night.

E. B. Rives, druggist, at No. 56 North Main street, testified that Mrs. Harris came to his store a few days before the trouble, and had a conversation with him. She told him that Mr. Miller was a very hard drinker, and she wanted something to make him stop. She said that if he should get sick, she would tackle Mrs. Miller for money, and if she did not get it she would speak to Mr. Miller. The witness told Chief Burns about the conversation. She told the druggist that if he didn't look out Mrs. Miller would get him into trouble.

Officers Bowler and Jennings were examined as to the arrest, and testified that after Mr. Harris and Mrs. Harris were arrested, they met and asked to have a private interview. This privilege, however, was denied them.

W. S. Scholey, a clerk at the Ramona, testified that Harris rented rooms Nos. 51 and 52 for one day and paid for them; also, that Harris said he wanted to sleep there, and that he came alone. He did not know whether Mrs. Harris came there that day or not.

When the prosecution closed a motion was made for the dismissal of the case, and was argued at length by counsel. The case went over until the afternoon, at which time the motion for dismissal was denied by Justice King.

George W. Miller, the husband of the prosecuting witness, was introduced, and swore that his wife was suffering from a periodical sickness at the time the panel game was played. He seemed to be very much concerned at the embarrassing position in which his wife was placed.

Dr. Thomas Turpin was examined as to Mrs. Miller's condition, and his testimony was directly in line with that of her husband. He said that Mrs. Miller's condition made her very irritable, and that she was at the time of the occurrence in a state that would properly be designated as hysterical.

When this point was reached in the examination the counsel for the defense asked for a continuance, on the ground that Mr. Wilson would be absent from the city for several days.

After a protracted discussion the case was continued until July 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller sat in the court-room with their backs turned to the spectators and never looked around. They seemed to feel the disgrace of the position in which they were placed. The defendants, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, were in a side room and did not appear during the afternoon.

EAST SIDE.

Notes and Personals—Off for Catalina or Just Returning.

J. Buck, on Alta street, has two very sick children, but the physician in attendance is hopeful of their recovery.

J. H. Southworth and family and W. Jeffres and family left yesterday for Catalina Island to spend a month or more taking in the sights and sports of that lovely resort.

E. Hartup and W. Harrison left yesterday for a drive to Bakersfield. A good rain to lay the dust would add to their comfort.

Frank P. Broshart and John Bailey returned from Santa Monica Cañon yesterday, where they have been exercising their skill and ability in angling and hunting.

Mr. Munsey thinks it will be beneficial to his health to take an ocean trip, and has concluded to make an experimental one by going over to Catalina. He will stay among the hills for a short time to improve his health.

Mrs. Ogden and daughter will soon leave for their old home in Oregon to visit friends and old acquaintances. Their friends wish them a pleasant trip and safe return.

TIE AND TRACK.

AN EXTRA TRAIN TO REDONDO BEACH.

The Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale Road Preparing for Its Extensions—Looking Forward to a Railroad Boom—Notes of Interest from Other Sections.

The Santa Fé people are determined to make a fashionable watering place of Redondo Beach, and from the general indications they will succeed. All of their trains for that point last Sunday were crowded, and they are so confident that they can draw a larger crowd next Sunday that they have decided to put on another train, which will leave this city at 9 a.m. The fishing season has just opened at Redondo and the early trains take a number of fishermen down. The company has not given up the idea of getting into Santa Monica. They are confident that they will get a right of way into that city very soon now, and if they do they will have their road completed before the season opens next year.

The Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale people are beginning to branch out and will commence work on their new road very shortly. They have invited bids for material for their extension, and as they are an energetic crowd there is no doubt but that they will have one of the most profitable little roads in Southern California very soon.

All of the railroad men in Southern California are looking forward to a general railroad boom during the coming season. Some of the biggest railroad men in the United States have their eyes on this section, and it is believed that several important moves will be made very soon. The Los Angeles, Utah and Pacific people are very quiet to all appearances, but they are doing a good deal of work, and it is whispered around that a large force of men

REVOLTING OUTRAGE

EXPERIENCED BY TWO UNPROTECTED GERMAN GIRLS

While They Were Sleeping in an Emigrant Car at the Southern Pacific Depot They Were Overpowered by a Couple of Brutes.

Within the next few days a suit will probably be filed against the Southern Pacific Company in San Francisco for damages in a double rape case that took place in this city several weeks ago. The matter has been kept very quiet, and the chances are that there are not more than half a dozen people in the State who know anything of the circumstances surrounding one of the most brutal outrages that ever came to light. The affair is of local interest, for the reason that the outrage took place in this city at the Southern Pacific depot. The perpetrators have not been arrested, and, so far as known, no attempt on the part of the authorities has been made to learn their names.

The story is a very sad one, and shows to what depths of depravity man can descend. The facts only came to light yesterday in this city, and are about as follows:

On the 14th of last month an emigrant train pulled into the Southern Pacific depot from the East. All of the passengers except two German girls, aged 16 and 18, respectively, had reached their destination and left the train. The two girls are sisters, and were on their way to San Francisco to meet their brother, who came to America several years ago, and as soon as he was able sent for his sisters. It seems that he brought out with him a third sister, who is employed in a family on Grand avenue, in this city, but the Los Angeles sister did not know when her "little sisters," as she calls them, would pass through Los Angeles, and as they were not acquainted with her address, there was no one at the depot to meet them, and they decided to remain in the emigrant car all night. This layover business is not uncommon when overland emigrant coaches arrive too late to be booked to the north-bound train, and the company is in the habit of allowing passengers bound for the north to remain in their bunks over night. The trainmen do not remain in the coaches, but, to secure the safety of the passengers, the doors are locked.

On this particular night the two German girls, who, by-the-way, are very pretty and cannot speak a word of English, were left alone in the car. The car was sidetracked in a quiet place and the unprotected girls were soon sleeping quietly. They do not know how long they had slept when they were awakened by some one moving about the coach. They arose and were preparing to dress, as they thought the train was about to move, when two men, one a white man and the other a negro, jumped toward them and before they could call for help or defend themselves the fiends threw them down and had rammed cotton into their mouths so that they could not scream. Whether the victims fainted or were drugged, they cannot tell, but when they came to their senses they were alone and the car was locked as it had been earlier in the night. It was still dark and the girls could see no one about the place, but they could hear some one moving about the depot. At first they thought they would call for help and tell their story, but when they remembered what bad luck they had earlier in the night when trying to make themselves understood they decided to keep quiet until they reached San Francisco.

On their arrival in San Francisco they told the story to their brother, and he took them to a lawyer who had done some business for him.

The lawyer heard the story, and suggested that the girls be taken at once to a physician for examination in corroboration of their singular story. The doctor reported that the story told by the girls was more than probable, as they showed every sign of having been most brutally outraged.

The girls were closely questioned by the lawyer, and they stuck to their story so close that he decided to take their case in hand and sue the railroad company for damages. A letter from one of the sisters to the sister in this city states that the company will be sued for $15,000 or $20,000, but it is doubtful whether they can make the case stick, although the girls were under the immediate care of the railroad company, and under the law of common carriers, they are responsible to a certain extent for the safe delivery of all passengers.

It is believed that the negro is a porter and the white man one of the train men who knew about the unprotected condition of the girls. The men have not yet been identified, but the letter states that detectives are working the case up, and as the girls are perfectly confident that they can identify the wretches, there is no doubt but that they will be captured and prosecuted to the bitter end.

The Southern Pacific officials here know nothing about the affair, and if the men are guilty and can be captured the company will do all in its power to bring them to justice. The company cannot afford to have such brutes in its employ and should spend thousands of dollars in their punishment.

It is not known whether the complaint has been filed as yet, but the girl says in her letter that it is being drawn and will be filed at once.

THE TOAL CASE.

A Sealed Verdict Returned by the Jury.

The argument in the Toal case took place yesterday. In the morning Deputy District Attorney McComas and Horace Bell made their arguments, and in the afternoon W. T. Williams closed for the defense and Mr. McComas for the prosecution.

The jury got the case at 6 o'clock and were out until 10 o'clock, when it returned a sealed verdict and went home. The verdict will be opened in court this morning at 10 o'clock. There are no intimations as to what the verdict will be, but it is hardly regarded as possible that the vicious and brutal defendant will be acquitted.

United States Courts.

Yesterday in the United States District Court Thomas Cullen presented a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. He is charged with mutinous conduct on board the ship John C. Potter. The ground for the requested release is that the complaint is not specific. The case was submitted to the Court on briefs and will be decided today.

A complaint was filed against Max Otto, charging him with smuggling cattle across the line below San Diego. The bail was fixed at $500, and the examination set for August 5th.

A complaint was also filed by J. M. Barbour of Iowa against J. C. Morton et al. It was for the posession of land alleged to be illegally held by the defendants, and for $2000 damages.

DIED OF LOCKJAW

While on His Way to Town for Medical Treatment.

Late yesterday afternoon an old colored man came to the police station looking for the Coroner, saying that another colored man that he was bringing into town for medical treatment had died in his wagon on the way. The old man was referred to Orr & Sutch's, on Spring street, where he was seen by a TIMES reporter just as the body was being brought into the morgue. The old man said that his name was John Ballard, and that he lived in the Conejo Valley. The dead man, he said, was Isaac Johnson, aged 35 years, and a neighbor of his who had recently taken up a Government claim near him. About a week ago he had stepped on a sharp buckhorn stake, which had entered his foot. He did not at first suffer any great pain, but soon the foot and leg began to swell, and lockjaw finally set in. He had started from his ranch Sunday evening and traveled all night. Yesterday morning, while watering his team at Encinas, Johnson died, and he brought the body on into the city.

Johnson's wife was with Ballard and corroborated the story. She said that she told her husband that he could not stand the trip, but as he would have died anyway they determined to try and get to where medical aid could be had. Mrs. Johnson said that her husband was a Mason and that he had told her that they would bury him. He was a native of Cincinnati, O., and she came from Memphis, Tenn. She had been married only about a year.

Dr. Ainsworth examined the body and found that death had resulted from lockjaw, and last evening at 7:30 o'clock an inquest was held, when the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

CATALINA'S ISLE.

NEWS FROM THE JEWFISH COUNTRY.

Sailing of the Yacht Squadron—Arrival of the Aggie, Rambler, Puritan and Lone Star—Fine Catches of Albicore—Suggestion for a Southern California Yacht Fleet.

AVALON (Santa Catalina), July 13.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Yesterday the yacht-squadron took advantage of the fresh breeze and bore away for San Pedro. It was a race from the start, and La Paloma, Sappho, America and Puritan started within pistol-shot of each other. There was some little hauling and luffing, to wait for the America, whose captain and ladies were returning down the hillside from a goat-hunting trip; finally they arrived and all the yachts fell away and went off with a cheer from the crowd and salutes from one another. They made a stretch to the eastward about seven miles, then went about and it was evident that La Paloma, Capt. Hancock Banning, was leading, and if she did not enter San Pedro harbor first we are very much mistaken.

While the yachts were lying in port a good opportunity was afforded to examine them.

La Paloma is the finest model of any boat of her tonnage in these waters—a beauty in every sense, sitting the water like a duck, with fine lines and a style of her own. She is finely fitted up with every convenience, combining all the essentials of comfort and elegance, yet not sacrificing any of the requirements of a thorough racer.

The Sappho of San Francisco is about the size of the La Paloma, has a little more cabin-room, but does not compare to the Los Angeles yacht in beauty or speed.

The America is a big, roomy pilot-boat, the largest probably in the country, and is hardly in racing trim.

One of the last yacht cruises the writer made in the East was on the famous America, now owned by Gen. Butler, and the original owner of the Queen's cup. She could have sailed around the Pacific Americas. Speaking of sailing around vessels, I remember going to New York harbor one day with some friends who were going to join the famous Gracie, owned by Jack Waller. The Gracie left the Battery just as we pulled out, and sailed around us twice before we reached Fort Lafayette. Whether the steamer was very slow is a question, but there is no doubt but that the Gracie was one of the fastest sloops of the New York Club.

With ports like San Pedro and Catalina, there should be a fine yacht club, and I understand a Southern California yacht club is talked of. La Paloma, the Aggie, the Rambler, Puritan and a dozen or so more which make Wilmington or San Pedro their port of entry, constitute a good nucleus for a fine club, and such thorough-going yachtsmen as Mr. McFarland and Hancock Banning will undoubtedly make it a great success.

The fishing continues good here, but there are places to go to and places not to go to. A gentleman told me yesterday that he was discouraged; he had been down to Long Point, about seven miles away, and had caught nothing. I was fishing at the same time within 10 minutes' row of the Hotel Metropole, and caught at least 75 or 100 pounds of fine fish—any more would have been too much of a good thing. The fishing grounds at Avalon are off the rocky points, to the north of the harbor, anchoring your boat out far enough to get away from the kelp. Here you throw over your small line, have your jewfish line over as well, and a barracuda bait ready. If these fishes come along, and you are well provided, you are likely at any time to take a jewfish, and small fish of from two to seven or ten pounds will afford you ample amusement. The small fish caught are flounders, sheepshead, from one to ten pounds; white fish, ranging up to six or seven pounds; albicore, rock bass, with an occasional murray, or sea eel, a vicious, hard-biting creature that will tie himself into a bow knot. I remember, once in Florida, I hauled a large one in, and a moment later it charged at me so ferociously that I found it expedient to climb the mast, leaving it to squirm overboard. One caught here a few days ago ran one of the fishermen out of the boat into another.

The number of flying fish in the Avalon Bay may be estimated from the fact that in the morning they are often found in boats, having flown in during the night.

Entirely new arrangements have been made at the Hotel Metropole (not Metropoe as generally understood). Mr. C. A. Sumner, now in charge, has lowered the rates and increased the service. The fare from Los Angeles for the round trip by steamer Hermosa is $3. On Saturdays and Sundays, $2.60; also $2.60 for the Saturday boat and return on Sunday. Various entertainments will be given through the week for the edification of guests. Among the recent arrivals at the Metropole are Mrs. C. A. Sumner, Miss Sumner, Mr. Truxton Beale, son of Gen. Beale, so well known in Washington, Mrs. Graves, J. E. Harris, D. O. Milton, Mrs. E. H. Flanders, Mrs. H. L. Parker, W. P. Davis, Joseph Gaskell, L. N. Breed, Mrs. C. B. McClure, Arthur McClure, H. Rose, Mrs. H. N. Rose, Mrs. Patton, Miss A. Smith, Mrs. L. Glassell, Mrs. L. T. Glassell, Mrs. P. H. Glassell, Dr. Thomas of Pasadena, Mr. Graves, Mr. Ross, Mr. John Jones of THE TIMES.

Charley Bell of Pasadena and Frank W. King of Hawley, King & Co., Los Angeles, have just brought in a 300-pound jewfish. It nearly swamped the boat, and was mastered only after a big struggle.

Mr. Sumner is having it mounted, to show the modern Walton what Catalina waters afford—barracuda bait is the thing to catch the big game.

JEWFISH.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

In this as in every other locality where it is known, there are hundreds of persons who are taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. To those we want to say one word. In nine cases out of every ten it is effecting specific cures. But word comes to us occasionally of people who report that it operates too freely upon the bowels. We want to call the attention of those to the fact that they are not following the printed instructions and are taking too much of it. If it acts too freely reduce the dose, never taking any more at any time than causes easy and perfect action. Keep this injunction in mind, and take it regularly for a while and do not indulge in too much greasy food, and we will have your testimonial within a fortnight. If taken under these conditions it is an absolute cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headaches, constipation, face eruptions and liver and kidney disorders. It may be asked how it can possibly cure so many ailments. But the reason is clear. All those troubles are the legitimate result of improper liver and kidney action or impaired digestive organs. Its effects upon those functions are as astonishing to the medical fraternity as to the thousands who are daily taking it.

MR. BLAINE denies that he has any intention of retiring.

THERE are 5,000,000 acres of land dedicated to wine growing in Spain, yielding about 900,000,000 gallons.

THE number of suicides in the United States last year, as closely as can be figured, was 7000, and the majority of them were farmers and farmers' wives.

A TRAIN from Santa Barbara to Los Angeles struck a cow in Ventura county and was derailed, the engineer injured, and the locomotive badly damaged. If the Ventura butter is as strong as its cows it can't be of first-class quality.

THE extravagant attacks of the English Radical press upon Queen Victoria on account of the supposed enormous wealth she has acquired are likely to be met by the production of her accounts from the commencement of her reign to the present period. It is believed this will silence the charges of hoarding.

THE New York Financial and Mining Record has tabulated a statement of the mining dividends paid in this country in the first six months of 1889. Adding those not in the statement the total is $5,422,900 by 52 mines. With the exception of one Central American mine, which paid $30,000, all the mines are in this country.

THE national day of France was celebrated throughout the United States in grand style. In Los Angeles the celebration was a complete success. Citizens of all nationalities seemed to vie with each other in doing honor to our sister republic. The procession and the fireworks attracted large crowds. The oration of Mr. Mesnager was a patriotic and eloquent tribute to the French Republic.

THE citizens of Kearney, Neb., which has a population of 10,000, have undertaken to raise $250,000 as a subsidy for an eastern cotton manufacturing company to remove its extensive plant to Kearney. In two days $181,000 was raised, and the remainder has doubtless been secured. It will be Nebraska's first cotton mill, and the Kearneyites are enthusiastic over the prospect. This is a sort of enterprise which Los Angeles might well copy.

AFTER all the graphic details of the serious manner in which Kilrain was damaged by Sullivan, one account stating that two ribs were broken and another that he had been killed, we are now informed that he stripped before a reporter and showed that he had not a bruise upon him. Such is "news!"

AN instance of the manner in which the assesment of property was conducted last year was furnished in the City Council yesterday, when a citizen asked to be reimbursed for a sum paid on properties bought at tax sale, on the ground that there is no such block as the one sold to him, and that tax on another lot, which he purchased, had been paid by a local corporation.

A LITTLE LAND WELL TILLED.

We have examples in Southern California of success in making a living on what we consider a very small piece of ground. Families in Los Angeles county are doing well and putting something away in the bank, on twenty, ten, five, or even less acres, and the other day we noticed the case of a family of three who had existed for nearly a year on the product of an ordinary 50-foot lot, but to thoroughly appreciate the possibilities of "a little land well tilled," one has to turn to China.

In the Popular Science Monthly, Adelie M. Fielde has an interesting article on farm life in China, the section dealt with being that of Swatow, where about nine-tenths of the men are engaged in agriculture. As in Southern California, the land can be made to yield the year around, in this part of China. The principal crops are rice, sugar-cane, sweet potatoes, pulse, garden vegetables, peanuts, indigo, sesamum, ginger, the grass cloth plant, tobacco and wheat. Early rice is sowed in April, and harvested in July; the late rice is sowed in August and harvested in November, and the field is then sometimes planted with garden vegetables, which are gathered in March. The expense of fertilizing the third crop is so nearly equal to its value that it is never reckoned as a source of profit to the cultivator.

The tax collected by the Government, which theoretically owns all the land, averages $1.50 on each acre. Few own more than ten acres; one who has that much is reckoned wealthy, and he who owns one acre possesses a competence. Those who own from one-tenth to one-half an acre—averaging a lot 75 by 160 feet—are most numerous. Prices of land are high. Land that is too sterile for profitable cultivation or for taxation sells for from $6 to $60 an acre, while good farm land is valued at from $300 to $800 an acre. Rice fields not in the vicinage of a city sell readily for $600 an acre, and are not always to be bought at that price, because those who own land find it the safest investment, and part with it only when under the stress of debt. The bursting of dykes, drought and bad habits are the chief causes of the transfer of land, and the sale of a child often precedes that of a rice field. Interest on money lent is from 12 to 20 per cent., according to agreement between lender and borrower.

The chief expense of tillage is in fertilizers, beans and sesamum seeds from which the oil has been expressed being commonly used, at an outlay of from $6 to $40 and an average of $24 upon every acre of land. Besides this, potato-peelings, hair from shaven heads, and all other vegetable and animal refuse is carefully husbanded and methodically applied to the soil. The clods of the field are laid up into little ovens to retain and be enriched by the smoke of the stubble burned underneath them. Adobe houses, whose walls have for many years absorbed the fumes of a kitchen and the exhalations of human inmates, are pulverized and added to the ever-hungry earth. Each growing plant separately receives distinguished consideration, a scrap of tobacco stalk being sometimes put beside its root to destroy underground grubs, while its leaves are frequently examined and sedulously freed from vermin. The rotation of crops is always practiced.

As no milk, butter or cheese is used, the only quadruped seen except the hog, is the water-buffalo or zebu, which assists in plowing and harrowing. Ducks live on snails, crabs and young frogs, which abound at planting time, and the black hog, fed on the bran of the rice, is found in every family. A complete farming outfit, including buffalo, can be bought for $40. A farmer may be hired by the year for from $8 to $14, with food, clothing, head-shaving and tobacco. Those who work by the day receive from 8 to 10 cents, with a noonday meal. Few land-owners hire hands, except for a few days during the planting and harvesting of rice. Those who have more land than they and their sons can till lease it to their neighbors. Food averages little more than one dollar a month for each member of the farmer's family and five dollars a year will clothe a man or woman elegantly.

One-sixth of an acre to each mouth to be filled is commonly declared to be the least that will enable the cultivator to live upon his own land, even with the highest tillage and the utmost frugality. One acre, tilled by the peasant proprietor alone, will feed six persons—the peasant, his wife, his aged father and mother, and his two young children. It will yield rice, hulled in the house, and vegetables, raised between rice-crops, sufficient for food. The straw and stubble will serve as fuel, and the pig and fowls will supply the meat. The clothing will be woven and made by the wife, while the old couple take care of the children.

Pong Hia lives in a village of 300 persons, in which about thirty men are land-owners, having altogether forty-five acres of land. Pong Hia owns two acres, inherited from the father who adopted him. His land is worth $1000. His family consists of ten persons. He is himself 46 years old, his wife is 41, his son is 22, his son's wife is 21, his four daughters are from 10 to 17 and his two grandchildren are 3 and 7 years old. He and his son till the land, hiring help at harvest-time, and weaving straw mats on rainy days. The women-folk make the clothing, rear pigs and fowls, and do all the housework. Their dwelling, with its site, is valued at $120, their furniture at $44, their clothing at $40, their farming appliances at $40. They have a water-buffalo, two hogs, thirty fowls, ten ducks, a pair of geese, a dog and a cat. Last year Pong Hai sold $20 worth of rice from his farm, and paid $3.60 in taxes. He has $200 out at interest, at 18 per cent.

It is small wonder that Chinamen, raised under such a system, can save money and grow rich among us, where white men would starve. The time will never come when Americans will consent to exist under such conditions as those depicted, but it is instructive as well as interesting to note what the soil is capable of, when worked for all there is in it, and while a California family may not—as it should not—emulate the Chinese in trying to live on an acre, there is no reason why, here in Southern California, a family should not grow "healthy, wealthy and wise" on ten times that amount of land, properly and diligently cultivated. At the rate of production and consumption described the area of the city of Los Angeles would support the population of California; this county would support 10,000,000 people; New York State, making a reduction of one-half for its more northern latitude, would support the total population of the United States at the present time, and the occupied arable land of the United States, with its producing power diminished on account of climate to one-half that of land at Swatow, would feed a population equal to that of the whole world, or over 1,400,000,000.

THE following communication from the State Board of Trade was read at a meeting of the San José board last week. We don't know whether our board has been invited to participate, but the event is certainly an important one, of which Los Angeles should take advantage:

A special train, carrying over one hundred of the members of the Associated Press, editors and proprietors of the leading newspapers in the East, will arrive in this State on the 25th day of July. In view of the work of this board, it was unanimously adopted at its annual meeting, held yesterday (Tuesday, the 9th), that the opportunity to enlighten these editors should not pass by; hence your county is called upon to furnish olive oil and twenty boxes of fruit.

Please arrange to have the articles ready for shipment by the 20th of July. I will arrange with either Wells-Fargo or the Southern Pacific Company to forward to me in care of the agent at Sacramento. A special committee of the board will accompany the Press Committee to the State line to meet the special.

The party will visit several portions of the State—Santa Clara, Napa, San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys—for the purpose of viewing the fruit and wine culture. We are also desirous of educating them concerning the advantages of irrigation. This will materially assist the Senatorial Committee in their arid-land-survey reports.

Your assistance in this matter is earnestly requested.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—The opening of the Lyceum Theater Company from New York city in the play of The Wife last night drew together a fine audience, composing the usual number of first-nighters and much of the bon ton of Los Angeles.

The cast of the piece was precisely the same as when the company played it here about a year ago, and the performers severally received a hearty welcome of recognition as they appeared. The play was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience and every point as it was made received that token of appreciation which evidently was prompted as much by the memory of the former good performance as by the fresh enjoyment of the piece itself.

It is of course a small compliment to this well-drilled company to say that their presentation goes with perfect smoothness. The long practice they have had together insures an accuracy and an ease which are delightful to contemplate, and it is also evident that the members of the company are each and every one finished and conscientious in their rendition and act as carefully as if the piece was yet to be made a success. Whatever difference of opinion there may be upon the merits of The Wife from a literary point of view, and there is much that has been justly urged in severe criticism of its claims, there is no question that the company do justice to the parts with which they are entrusted. It is a very taking piece for several reasons besides the good acting. It glides through the best society in Newport and in Washington, the men all wear dress coats and expansive shirt bosoms throughout the play, excepting in the last scene, and the women wear delightful décolleté toilettes, and there is an atmosphere of fashion and refinement even to the murmured cadences with which some of the people drawl out their utterances, in tones too low to reach the plebeian gallery, and not quite loud enough to penetrate the aristocratic aroma which pervades the dress circle. Seriously, a number of the performers have yet to learn the acoustic pitch of the house in order to make themselves heard and understood. The Lyceum Theater in New York, where the company has done most of its work, is much smaller than the Grand Opera-house here, which perhaps accounts for the mistakes made last night, and which no doubt will be corrected in future performances. The habit of speaking in undertones up the stage and into the wings may be very realistic and very natural, but hardly satisfies the ardent desire of the listeners in the background, who want to know what it is all about.

The company is to be seen tonight in Sweet Lavender, a play to be given here for the first time, and one which is said to be not only immensely popular but which will bring the players into the presentation of something entirely different to Washington high-life with its ball-room quarrels and political scandalizings.

LOS ANGELES THEATER.—The attractive music of Pinafore will continue to be heard at this theater all the week, and in view of the way the piece is staged and sung should draw a full house every night.

THE JINGLERS.—These old plantation singers drew a fair audience at Turner Hall last night. The same company has been on the coast before, and is by far the best organization of the kind on the road today. They are all good singers, and have been singing before the public long enough to be perfectly at home on the stage.

THE SAWDUST SWINDLE.

How It Is Worked — Closing the Sucker's Mouth.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The letter that your correspondent from Santa Monica received, purporting to be from a counterfeiter of paper money, is nothing more or less than from one of a large number of sawdust swindlers who infest New York city.

As any one who will stop to think knows, if the paper money was really as good as these men represent it to be, they would not sell it at such an enormous discount, but would go ahead and circulate it, without fear of detection. From time to time the country is flooded with these circulars, and it is amazing at the number of people, who are supposed to be honest and sensible that take the bait.

The usual plan that these sawdust swindlers work is to get in correspondence with a party from a distant section of the country, make an appointment to meet the would-be purchaser in Jersey City, or possibly at one of the hotels in New York city, make things pleasant, showing the vistor every attention; getting pretty thoroughly into the confidence of the individual. He then takes him around and shows him some of the money. The buyer at once sees how perfect the money is, for it is real, genuine greenbacks that he examines. Having gone this far, he is now more than thoroughly convinced that he is going to strike it rich, and is anxious to get hold of the money.

The swindler takes plenty of time, works his victim up to the highest purchasing pitch. In the mean time letting him know that they are watched, it would never do to take the money sent to his home by an express company.

The supposed counterfeit money is counted out, the purchase money paid over. So far everything looks square. But in the meantime, instead of handing the supposed counterfeit money over to the purchaser it is put in a plain box to the sent by express. And instead of the box of money being sent a box of sawdust, with a lot of brown paper cut up into the size of paper money is substituted, so dexterously that the purchaser is satisfied that he is getting the package of money, and hurries home to spend his ill-gotten gains.

When he gets home the first thing is to get his box of money out of the express office. When he opens it—well, how did it happen? He wakes up to find he has been robbed or swindled, whichever he wishes to term it. In other words, beaten at the game he was trying to play.

It is natural for the victim to feel mad; yes, mad as a hornet, but what is he going to do about it? He can't let them know at home what he has been trying to do, possibly hasn't the money to go back to New York; if he did, he could never find his "friends." So it stops there. And victim after victim is caught, probably from the same town or section. Thus the sawdust swindler lives and thrives off the duplicity of the people.

Corran's City Directory for 1890.

The canvass for a re-issue of the above work was commenced yesterday, an experienced corps of canvassers being engaged in the work. The volume in use at present is a marvel of completeness, considering the unsettled state of the city when the canvass was made. The appearance of the book has been good in the eyes of strangers, and a new one will be welcomed by our business community. A directory is often accepted as a criterion of a city's importance.

OUT OF THE WOODS.

Kilrain Safe in the Empire State.

His Trying Adventure in an Indiana Corn-loft.

Several Arrests in Mississippi in Connection with the Fight.

A Fruit War at Chicago—The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce Given a Big Surprise.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Last night Jake Kilrain stripped to the skin and was closely examined by a reporter, who could find no mark upon him anywhere, not even a discoloration of the skin. Kilrain declared he was not seriously punished by Sullivan, and that the hot sun had more to do with his poor showing than Sullivan's blows.

"I just weakened and died away, and that was all there was to it," is the way Jake put it. He says he may go to California to try for some of the big purses they offer there. He cannot say whether he will go against Peter Jackson or not.

PITTSBURGH, July 15.—Jake Kilrain, the pugilist, and Mike Donovan passed through the city on the limited train this morning. They remained locked in their stateroom.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.), July 15.—Jake Kilrain passed through here on the St. Louis express, bound east, this evening. He made no attempt to conceal his identity, in which respect he differed from Mitchell, who passed through here on Sunday night. Kilrain was on his way to New York. He told one of his callers that he was glad to meet him, and asked if he looked very bad. His hands did not seem injured. He said he felt sore, but he was sure he was not so badly battered as had been reported. He asked if there was likely to be any trouble, and on being assured that there was none, he said that they made him a great deal of trouble near Indianapolis, where he had to stay two days and a night in a cornloft.

GOV. LOWRY'S VENGEANCE.

JACKSON (Miss.), July 15.—John Fitzpatrick, of New Orleans, referee in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, arrived here last night and went to the Governor's office this morning. He informed the Governor that he came to answer to whatever charge might be lodged against him for violation of the laws of Mississippi. Preliminaries were waived, and Fitzpatrick gave bond for $1000 to appear at Purvis on the 18th.

PURVIS (Miss.), July 15.—C. W. Rich and J. T. Jamieson were arrested last night and brought here on warrants charging them with aiding and abetting the Sullivan-Kilrain fight. They were placed under bonds for appearance at the next term of the Circuit Court.

It is reported that Gov. Lowry is after some of the railroad officials.

SURPRISED SENATORS.

They Find Chicago Merchants Opposed to Railway Pools.

CHICAGO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee resumed its hearings here today. Secretary Stone of the Board of Trade read a report on the questions submitted by the committee. This report thought that the Canadian transportation lines in the United States affected favorably the commercial interests of this country.

The Board of Trade committee also suggested additional legislation to make it "unlawful for railroad companies to combine for the formation of railway associations like the Trunk lines, Central Traffic, Southwestern, Interstate Commerce Railway Associations, etc., or railway trusts of any description, between railroads, competition and evade the laws."

This statement appeared to come unexpectedly to the Senate Committee, and created somewhat of a sensation. They immediately abandoned temporarily the question of relations with Canada to develop the Board of Trade idea of the traffic associations and pools.

Senator Hiscock said this was an important question and that the attitude of the board was a surprise, as at other points where the committee had held hearings the concensus of public opinion had been that these associations are the only solution of the present complications. He asked whether the denunciatory sentences in the report were in the nature of deliberate opinion or merely rhetorical.

The committee evidently did not anticipate the turn affairs had taken, and evaded an immediate answer on the ground that they did not understand that they were present to consider the question of pools. Individual members of the Board of Trade committee on being questioned, however, expressed strong opposition to traffic arrangements and differentials with weaker roads, on the ground that they prevented free competition.

The committee finished the hearing and, with the exception of Senator Cullom, left for the East this evening.

CATTLE FOR EUROPE.

Large Shipments to Be Made this Summer.

CHICAGO, July 15. — [By the Associated Press.] Arrangements have been completed for the exportation of an unusually large number of cattle within the next three or four months. Nelson Morris, a heavy cattle dealer of this city, has secured all the vacant space on all the outgoing steamers from New York for Liverpool, Glasgow and London, for a period of two or three months. J. L. Hathaway of Boston and his syndicate have engaged all the room on steamers of the Warren line from Boston for July, August and September, and Meyer Goldsmith of New York has engaged the same line of steamers for October. The reason for this heavy export is the low price here and the shortage of European cattle crops and consequent high prices there.

The first consignment this season of range cattle arrived here this morning. They are from the ranch of Pierre Wieaux, and consist of nine carloads of steers and six carloads of cows. They were shipped at Mingusville, Mont.

A FRUIT WAR.

Rival Chicago Companies Resort to Litigation.

CHICAGO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Earl Fruit Company of California commenced suit this morning praying for an injunction in the United States Circuit Court against the Adams & Lewis Auction Company of this city. The fruit company sends its fruit, valued at $500,000 yearly, to Chicago. The market is made by means of public auctions, which defendant and others carry on. Yet, notwithstanding the fact that nearly all plaintiff's fruits are consigned to it, defendant refuses to permit plaintiff's agent to attend the sale. When their agent, M. Fry, goes to the place he is forcibly ejected. This, it is alleged, is because a rival fruit-growing company is backing the auction company. An injunction is asked restraining the auction company from ejecting Fry at the time of the public sale.

A Mississippi Lynching.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.,) July 15.—Yesterday morning Sam Bures, a negro, charged with the murder of a white man named Whitehurst, was lynched at Iuka, Miss. A mob of 100 men forced the jailer to give up the negro, took Bures a short distance and hanged him to a tree.

A Big Deal at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, (Minn.), July 15.—Indications are favorable to the consummation of a deal by which a syndicate will obtain a big interest in the Minneapolis flour mills. If the deal succeeds, the property in question, including mills with a capacity of 22,000 barrels, or two-thirds of Minneapolis's total capacity, is to be capitalized at $10,000,000. The controlling interest in this amalgamated organization in shape either of stock or bonds is to be sold to an English syndicate. C. A. Pillsbury is to be retained as manager, perhaps, of the entire business, certainly of the Pillsbury mills.

Assigned and Disappeared.

STAUNTON (Va.), July 15.—James A. Patterson, Jr., of Waynesboro, made an assignment today. The assets are over $60,000; debts less than $10,000. Patterson owned and operated the largest flouring mill in the valley. He has left the country. No reason is assigned for his absence or assignment. He was a prominent and influential citizen.

WHITE WINGS.

EASTERN YACHTS RACING IN A RAINSTORM.

Builder Burgess's Latest Craft Defeats the Fortuna and Mayflower—An Exciting Contest Off Old Marblehead.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MARBLEHEAD (Mass.), July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The annual regatta of the Eastern Yacht Club was sailed today, from start to finish in a northeast rainstorm. The start was made at 11:45 a.m. Schooners and cutters of the first, second and fifth classes were to have sailed over the distance of 38¾ miles with one turn. The first class got away in the following order: Fortuna, Mayflower, Sea Fox and Merlin. The Fortuna had a good lead and went under lower sails and working topsails, the Mayflower being good second. The Merlin, one of Burgess's latest designs, showed remarkable speed, and soon after crossing the line passed the Sea Foam and Mayflower and closely followed the Fortuna. On board the Merlin were Edward Burgess and an eager crew. The Fortuna did not hold her lead long, as the Merlin gradually overhauled her and was soon in the lead. After running out about 20 minutes and finding no stake boat, Mr. Burgess concluded that no boat had been put in position, so the Merlin was immediately put about and beat home, as did all the others.

The second class, which sailed over the same course, followed the Merlin, and as a result the race was declared off, and will be sailed by the first and second-class boats tomorrow.

In the fifth class there was no finish.

Next in order came the 40-footers, of which the Gorilla was the first to get away, with the Verena close at her heels, followed by the Pappoose, Minerva, Chiquita and Alice. The Verena rounded at 12:58.33, the Chiquita second, Minerva third, Alice fourth, Pappoose fifth and Gorilla bringing up the rear. Soon after rounding the buoy the Minerva passed both the Chiquita and Verena and rapidly left the whole fleet astern, coming in the first one winner.

In the special class the Saracen, Kathleen, Beetle, Evelyn and the fast catboat Harbinger contested. The Kathleen was was first to get away, leading the Saracen, but the latter soon went to the front, and when the outer mark was turned both the Saracen and Harbinger led the New Yorker, the Beetle and Evelyn bringing up the rear.

Judge Terry insisted that an answer to plaintiff's application should be filed, but the defense claimed it was unnecessary.

The Session of the French Parliament Suddenly Closed.

PARIS, July 15.—The Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 461 to 12 today, approved the bill providing for a credit of f.58,000,000, spread over five years, for the building of war ships.

When the bill went to the Senate it was referred to a committee, and an adjournment was taken until evening. At the evening session President Melline in the Chamber read a decree closing the session. Soon after, when the Senate resumed, the Vice-President announced that the Chamber having decreed the close of the session without notifying the Senate, the latter body was no longer competent to deliberate. The Vice-President declined to listen to Senators who insisted that the Naval Bill ought to pass, and the decree closing the session was read amid intense excitement.

NOTES FROM ABROAD.

Opening of the Socialist Congress at Paris.

PARIS, July 15.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The International Socialist Congress opened in Paris today. There are present 188 French and 189 foreign delegates. Of the latter 82 are Germans, and include 11 members of the German Reichstag.

Leibknecht, who is one of the Reichstag representation, addressed the congress. He declared that the workingmen of Germany and the workingmen of France were united in this congress. It was not a theoretic union, on the contrary it would result in an alliance which would threaten monarchies throughout the world.

A Papago Indian Killed While Resisting Arrest—Joe Choynski Tendered a Benefit at San Francisco.

By Telegraph to The Times.

EMPIRE CITY (Or.), July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Eastenhover, a tenant of John Gilman on his farm near Coquille City, returning from his week's work yesterday evening, was waylaid and attacked by John Gilman near his home, but succeeded in making his escape, and gave the alarm. A large party from Coquille City was immediately organized, and returned to the farm, where they finally found the bodies of Eastenhover's wife and child, who had been murdered and the bodies buried near the house. A ready-made grave for the husband was also found.

Gilman and wife were immediately arrested, and circumstances point conclusively to their guilt. Gilman wanted them to leave, which they refused until their lease had expired. There is great excitement and fears of lynching tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The Examiner's special from Empire City, Or., says: Gilman, the murderer, was lodged in jail here this evening, when under threat of immediate lynching he confessed to the deliberate killing of the woman and child and to intending to kill the husband. He also admitted the killing of George Morris, a year ago, of which he was suspected. He was only saved from lynching by hurrying him from Coquille City before the mob had fully organized. He denies that his wife was his accomplice.

CHOYNSKI AND CORBETT.

They Exhibit Their Prowess in a Four-round Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] About 2500 people were present at Mechanic's Pavilion tonight, on the occasion of a benefit tendered Joe Choynski, the middle-weight pugilist, recently defeated by Jim Corbett. The exercises consisted of sparring and wrestling exhibitions by local athletes, interspersed with music from a band. The benefit will net Choynski about $800.

The event of the evening was a four-round contest between Choynski and his former opponent, Jim Corbett. Both men were greeted with applause, and gave the best exhibition of the evening. Corbett again seemed to prove himself more than a match for Choynski. The men displayed the greatest good humor and forbearance throughout, eliciting frequent applause. Corbett created merriment from the start by tapping Joe on the nose before they had fairly finished shaking hands. In the succeeding round he led with his right and left, reaching Choynski's nose and ears frequently, while the latter's blows were divided between Corbett's chest and eyes. A round of applause greeted the men at the close.

IRRIGATION'S PROBLEM.

Information for the Senate Committee on Arid Lands.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The committee appointed by the State Board of Trade to procure information for the Senate Committee on Arid Lands met today at the Board of Trade rooms. M. M. Estee of Napa was in the chair. There were also present W. H. Mills of San Francisco, Jesse D. Carr of Salinas, E. W. Jones of Los Angeles, C. C. Wright of Stanislaus, N. P. Chipman of Tehama and L. M. Holt of San Bernardino. Ex-Surveyor-General H. I. Weller was present by invitation. The work of the committee was to collect information regarding the problem of irrigation as applied to this State, and to make arrangements to lay it before the visiting Senatorial Committee on Arid Lands.

The principal points discussed were the quantity of land now lying idle for lack of water, the amount of annual precipitation, the possibilities for storage, increased value of land when brought under irrigation, and the possibilities of greater population. The movements of the Senatorial committee were also discussed.

CREIGHTON RETURNS.

The Convicted Briber Comes Home and Surrenders Himself.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Richard J. Creighton, who, with Frank Northey and J. T. Gammerson, was convicted in October, 1887, of embracery in a damage suit brought by Widow Wright against the Geary-street Cable Road Company, but fled from the city before sentence was passed on him, returned from Victoria, B. C., on the steamer City of Puebla this afternoon and surrendered himself and was placed in the county jail.

He tells a long story of his wanderings and privations in Mexico, England, Australia, Honolulu and British Columbia, and adds that he would rather spend a few years in prison in California than live the rest of his life out of the United States. The maximum of penalty to which Creighton is subject is ten years.

The French military and civil societies, assisted by a number of companies of the State militia, held a parade this afternoon, which was followed by literary exercises in the Grand Opera-house.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The celebration of the one-hundreth anniversary of the fall of the Bastille, begun yesterday by the French of this city, was continued today. The French societies paraded and were reviewed by Mayor Grant, and spent the rest of the day in picnic and games at Jones's woods.

A DESPERATE INDIAN.

Shot and Killed While Resisting Arrest.

TUCSON (Ariz.,) July 15.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Gila Bend says José Manuel, a Papago Indian, in resisting arrest was shot and killed by Deputy Sheriffs Caruthers and Anderson. When called on to surrender he rushed at the officers with a butcher-knife, lunged the knife at Caruthers's breast, but the padding saved him. He then slashed Anderson across the wrist, cutting an artery. Caruthers fired and killed the Indian. He escaped from jail about six months ago.

"ELECTROLYTIC."

Mr. Bray Suggests a Plan for Disposing of the Sewage.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The safe disposal of the sewage of this city seems to be, so far, an unsolved problem. Objections increase and multiply. No sooner is a plan proposed than there appears a score of valid reasons against it. Permit me to suggest a plan, which appears to have escaped consideration by the authorities, and which seems to me to offer a perfect and practicable solution of the difficulty.

A year or so ago, a Mr. Webster read before the Society of Municipal and Sanitary Engineers in London, England, a paper upon the "Electrolytic Treatment of Sewage." His novel views were received with distrust by that scientific body, but he, strong in the faith that was in him, and nowise discouraged by their adverse criticism, erected at his own expense a plant capable of dealing with a million gallons of sewage per day, at the municipal outfall works of the city of London at Crossness. This experimental establishment has been recently investigated by several scientific societies and persons, and seems from their reports to be an unqualified success.

The process is simple, and depends upon the well-known fact that ferrous salts have a great affinity for organic matter. The sewage is raised by a pump from the terminal sewer, and discharged into a wooden chute or trough 400 feet long, fitted with iron plates, which serve as electrodes. Between these plates the raw sewage flows; and to keep the fluid in agitation and to insure the contact of the whole of it with the plates, small weirs are placed at certain distances in the chutes. A current density of one ampere to 11 square feet of surface—about 500 amperes is employed; and the dark, opaque, malodorous fluid pumped into one end of the chute flows from the other end in about 10 minutes, a transparent liquid containing flocculent particles, which is discharged into a settling tank, where, in an hour or so, the precipitate settles, and the water, clear, inodorous, pure, "fit to drink," is drawn off, and the inoffensive sludge remaining can be pressed without the addition of lime or any other chemical.

Two settling tanks are used and filled alternately, that the fluid may be undisturbed during precipitation, while the process is continuous.

The electro-chemical action involved is somewhat obscure; but, according to the inventor, "the water, and the sodium and magnesium and other chlorides are split up into their constituent parts. At the positive electrode chlorine and oxygen are liberated, and, being in a nascent state, have a very high oxidizing power. At the negative electrode, ammonia, potash, soda, magnesia and similar elements are set free. The nascent chlorine and oxygen partly unite and, with the water, form hypochlorus acid. The positive iron plates are attacked, and ferrous hypo-chlorite is formed, while a portion of the hypochlorous acid attacks the organic matter, and by oxidation renders it innocuous. The hydrogen evolved plays a merely mechanical part; the bubbles attach themselves to the precipitate and carry the flocculent particles to the surface in the form of scum, which, after the liberation of the hydrogen, sinks to the bottom and constitutes the sludge."

The negative electrodes are made of thin rolled iron and are not consumed. The positive electrodes are consumed at the rate of two grains per gallon of sewage, and are made of the cheapest kind of cast iron, run directly from the blast furnace. The difference of potential between the electrodes varies between 2 and 2.8 volts, according to the amount of chlorides contained in the sewage. The cost of the process, including a liberal allowance for interest, repair, and depreciation, is said to be less than $5 per million gallons of sewage.

These particulars I gather from the reports of those who have investigated the results of this process; and as they are persons of high scientific authority, apparently convinced against their will, there seems to be no reason to doubt their accuracy. And if this be so, the plan is, of all presented, the one to commend itself to our city authorities. The local electric company could, with a small increase of plant, supply the current, and doubtless would be glad to do so; the expense of a pump, two settling tanks, and the required troughs would be comparatively trifling; the clear water could be used for irrigation without offending anybody; and the sludge, when packed, would probably have a commercial value. The outfall pipe-line could be dispensed with, the sea beach be uncontaminated, and all necessity for a sewage farm to depopulate the country in its vicinity would be done away with. It certainly merits investigation by the City Council. Yours respectfully,

W. F. BRAY.

Facts About Summer Corsets.

[Detroit Tribune.]

Summer comfort depends largely upon discreet dressing, and the corset makes or mars both looks and ease. The new pongee corset of the finest silk, stitched and finished like the best French satine, is a great benefit, weighing ounces where the ordinary coutille comes to pounds. The whalebones and clamps are the lightest, and the whole thing adjusts itself to the figure softly and luxuriously. The lace and open-work corsets, both long and short, are $1 to $1.75, and far healthier than heavy stays in which women imprison themselves through torrid heats. The shorter corsets gain favor, as the new dresses set better without the long busks, which betray themselves below the waist line. The riding corset and the Bernhardt corset, in fine coutille, embroidered, hardly come below the waist, and the various knitted or woven bands, which go by the name of the Greek corset, support the bust without much compressing the form. Bathing corsets, to keep fleshy figures from wobbling in the undress of a flannel suit, have cork busts and buckled straps instead of steels to rust in salt water, and are comfortable for other wear.

SAN FRANCISCO.

THE TIME THAT MAIDENS LOVE TO WED IN.

Brides and Bridals—A Dainty Wedding Costume—Six Bridesmaids in Baby Waists—An Out-of-door Wedding Breakfast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Of brides and bridals we are going to talk this time, for is it not the golden summer time, when the birds are singing love-songs in the trees, and the happy leaves bend lovingly to the gentle caress of the wooing breezes?

And is not this the time of all others that maidens love to wed in, in this golden summer time? Their happy hearts turn as gladly toward matrimony as the moth toward the candle, or the sea-bird toward the flame of the lighthouse—thoughtlessly, blindly darting forward, too often, alas, to be cruelly bruised and broken after they have arrived at the wished-for goal.

But be that as it may, brides there still will be and bridals, therefore, also, and perchance a few sweet brides will remain unscathed and only bloom into richer and riper womanhood under the sheltering protection of the bond matrimonial. Let us at least hope so.

Notwithstanding the trouble and worriment usually accompanying the preparations for a wedding, the bride generally enjoys having a "pretty" wedding, as it gives her something to look back to and to talk about in the years to come, and perhaps it is only proper that an event so important should be celebrated in some auspicious manner.

It was my luck to be present last week at one of the prettiest weddings imaginable, celebrated, as most of the "pretty" weddings are, at the country home of the bride's parents. The bride was a pretty, dainty blonde, and is an enthusiastic art student. She superintended all the wedding arrangements herself, and the result was delightful.

Her own dress was exceedingly beautiful; it was of delicate white silk crépe, and was made with a short waist cut V shaped and filled in with white gauze; the back drapery fell in a soft plaited train from the lower part of the waist, and the front drapery was caught up high at the left side under a sash of surah with long fringed ends; the sleeves were little baby puffs over elbow ones of gauze. The chef d'œuvre of the costume was the long veil; it was of white silk gauze, embroidered all round the edge with orange blossoms in fine white silk. The graceful effect of this delicate embroidery on the gauze can scarce be imagined, and when the bonny bride had donned her veil, which, by the way, did not cover her face, but was artistically arranged to fall over the train, she looked, indeed, beautiful as the most beautiful dream picture, and as etherial as the most idealistic imagining of the angels.

The bridesmaids were six in number, and were all attired in the simplest and sweetest of gowns made of dotted Swiss muslin; these had baby waists and straight full skirts, with a colored surah sash tied well under the arms and in a large bow at the back. Long white silk mitts and flaring hats of white chip completed the costumes, and each hat had a face-trimming of flowers corresponding with those carried in the hands of the wearer; for instance, the first two bridesmaids had baskets of lavender and carried sprigs of lavender, and their hats were faced with the same flower; the next pair had pink sashes and carried bunches of wild roses, and the third couple wore yellow sashes and carried large bouquets of wild sunflowers.

The six ushers wore button-hole bouquets of the same flowers, and as the guests entered the church they were presented with either a sprig of lavender, a wild rose, or a sunflower, by two little pages dressed in Lord Fauntleroy suits of white velvet, completed with white silk sashes.

The wedding breakfast was served in an out-door bower, and a string quartette played sweet harmonies during the entertainment. The table was decorated with scarfs of gold and pink and lavender, the three colors chosen by the bride as the key-note of the decorations, and each guest at the breakfast was given as a memento a satin napkin-ring, hand painted by the bride herself.

Taken as a whole, the wedding was an undoubted artistic success, and was so picturesque and lovely that it will always be a pleasure to remember.

The presentation of flowers to the guests is the latest fad, and is a charming idea. At a recent wedding in London the bridesmaids carried respectively Jacqueminot, Marechal Neil and La France roses, and as the guests entered, the ladies were given a rose and the gentlemen a boutonniere.

The novelties for wedding gifts are purses, paper cutters, blotting pads, card cases, etc., of oxidized silver or of delicate silver gray leather.

A handsome gift given lately to a bride by a kind aunt consisted of four sets of silk underwear, stockings inclusive. One set was of rose-color, another of mauve, another of pale green and the fourth of white, and all were elaborately trimmed with baby ribbon and fine lace.

Wealthy aunts: N. B.—That the gift dearest to the heart of a dainty girl is a set of silk underwear. LOU.

The Grim Chieftain.

[Kansas City Star.]

The bronze statue of Gen. Grant at Fort Leavenworth is ready to be unveiled. In due time the figure of the General who never lost a battle will be uncovered to the public with appropriate ceremonies. It is entirely appropriate that the State which sent a larger number of soldiers to the war in proportion to its inhabitants than any other State in the Union, should be honored with a statue of the chief military figure of that war. Kansas itself stands out as a heroic figure in the Union, and has touched the national character at its highest points. Public sentiment in every city in the State should perpetuate in bronze and marble the memory of Charles Sumner, Henry Ward Beecher, Lincoln, Anson Burlingame and the "Grim Chieftain." History and art will, in Kansas, always give these characters lofty places in the temple of fame.

A Thoughtful Agent.

[Fliegende Blaetter.]

Mrs. Younghusband: This girl is too young for a nurse. She is hardly taller than the baby itself.

Madame O'Rourke of the Centennial Employment Agency: Sure, madam, if she drops the baby it won't have so far to fall.

Shape Enough.

[From Town Talk.]

Tillie: A silk Turkish bathing suit! Why, don't you know there's no shape in it?

Tillie: Isn't eh? Well, you just notice it when I come out of the surf.

Unusually Able Remarks.

[Pasadena Star.]

Dr. A. H. Reid has repeated his charge that the editor of this paper said to him, "I am personally in favor of high license," and has therefore deliberately reiterated a malicious lie! That is plain talk, but milder words will not meet the issue.

We never entertained such sentiments, and never so used such an expression. We have often said, and here repeat it, that if we must put up with the existence of saloons in our midst, we are in favor of high license, and it rigidly enforced. . . .

In the light of these facts the absurdity of Dr. Reid's stupendous LIE becomes more apparent. This diseased combination of stale liver, short pants and putrid morality, whose hang-dog countenance indicates a possible physical cross between a skunk and a coon, further charges that we have nothing in the interest of temperance in Pasadena. . . .

We leave all abuse to Dr. Reid, who professes to be a Christian gentleman, but is in reality nothing more than an ulcerous wart on the rump of mistaken identity.

Observations on the Trombone.

[Pasadena Union.]

It will be noticed by knowing ones that when a newspaper makes a big noise over its circulation, its high moral character and its singleness of purpose in advancing the interests of the community, that it is merely trying to raise a dust in order to escape scrutiny. Don't believe a man who toots his own horn too loudly.

A Lively Fight.

LONG BEACH.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION OF THE METHODIST ALLIANCE.

Superintendent Cole's Address on "The Bible; How to Read and Enjoy"—Dr. Bresee on "Personal Work in a Revival"—Employment of Evangelists.

LONG BEACH, July 15.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The camp was somewhat quieter today, probably owing to the fact that many of the regular stand-bys returned with the Sunday excursionists. The interest in the exercises, however, remains good, and the regular programme was carried out.

The morning session began at 8 o'clock with the devotional hour, conducted by Rev. Leslie Gay. At 9 o'clock the training class was led by Supt. G. R. Cole, who gave an address on "The Bible, How to Read and Enjoy." He said:

"We might inquire, Where was the book written? By whom? For what purpose? Who has read it? What do they say about it? What is its influence? An answer to these questions will awaken an interest in any book. As I have said before, we should have our own Bible. There are many ways to read the Bible, one of which may benefit you. First, read by subject. Second, take up the history, then the biography, the prophecies, the miracles, etc. Take the chief incidents, picture them to yourself and ponder them well. Read by association and comparison. Read by topics, as Faith, Hope, etc. Search out the doctrines for yourself, and, to cement it all, read a book at a sitting, marking helpful passages as you read. I once read this book as a treatise on law. Now it is a letter from home, from my Father. I open it now as the family album, and gaze upon the face of my Father, of Christ, my Saviour."

At 10 o'clock the Bible Conference convened, Rev. G. F. Bovard presiding. The first paper was on "Preparations for a Revival," by Rev. D. H. Gillan of Riverside. He said:

"The thought is on special seasons of revival. There are two opinions prevailing in the Methodist Church today, one that we should have special times of revival, the other that the church should be in a condition of revival all the time. The idea that there can be no special seasons of revival in the higher religious experience is erroneous. I believe Methodism must move along the same lines she always has in regard to revivals. Advise fasting and prayer. It brings us nearer to God."

F. M. Larkin next gave an excellent paper on "Best Season for Revival." An enjoyable and profitable discussion followed.

At 2 o'clock a large number were present and listened to a paper by Dr. Bresee, on "Personal Work in a Revival."

"A revival, as we understand it, is one of the most sacred things I know. There are two themes. One of personality put into work for God. The other, the method of doing it. I shall deal with the first. Whenever I consider a theme like this, I go to the Master himself. Some of the elements of his character are love, will and power. God gives us the gift of His Spirit. God does not usually use men as instruments. Sometimes He does. He used Cyrus. He uses man as a man, an agent, a loving, thinking, human being. He prepares us to work out His plans. We must have the same elements of character that Christ has. We must have love along the lines that Christ loves. Then we will toil unceasingly for Him. Then we must put the will into the work. Will is the glory of humanity. Christian men will more earnestly than any others. Some get the idea that the exercise of the will means something bad. It does not take much will to be bad. Men who succeed are men of mighty will. In addition to these we must have the same power that Christ had to turn, shape, renew and bless. We must not undervalue personality. God intends we shall have a purpose and enthusiasm for his work."

The next subject presented for discussion was "Employment of Evangelists," led by L. F. Gay. "It Is God's Method of Reaching the Masses."

Next, Rev. Mr. Phelps of Pomona led the discussion on "After the Revival: Care and Training of Converts." He said:

"As we are talking of Methodist converts, I would say they should be trained methodistically. They should be trained in the doctrines of the Methodist Church. To this end, I think we should give a lecture, or talk once in two or three weeks on this subject. They should be taught to love the class and class meeting. Again, we ought to teach them to attend, love and take part in the prayer meeting," which he called the fireside of the church. "Give them something to do."

After all these papers were given, a spirited discussion took place on each of these subjects. At 4 p.m. was held a meeting of the Young People's Methodist Alliance led by J. M. Hibbish. Topic, "Conversion, How to Show It."

At 7:30 p.m. the following musical programme was very acceptably rendered:

Selections by the band.
Piano solo—Miss Jessie Cole.
Select renderings—Mrs. Carrie C. Mills of Los Angeles.
Vocal solo—Mrs. A. J. Waterhouse.
Harmonic duet—Will Craig and Frank Settles.

Long before the hour a large audience gathered to hear the interesting lecture, "From Dan to Beersheba," delivered by Prof. Marks in oriental costume. This he illustrated with beautiful paintings.

He said: "The journey to the Bible student is one of intense interest, covering a distance of 150 miles through the center of that land made memorable by so many thrilling events.

"The city of Dan is situated near the base of Mount Hermon, 100 miles from Jerusalem. The trip is taken with a guide, or dragoman, and camels to carry the tents and equipage. On the march southward you pass Kadesh, one of the eight cities of refuge. We also pass the home of Sisera, who gave battle to the children of Israel, and lost his army upon the plains of Esdraelon. Cana of Galilee, where Christ wrought his first miracle, thus adorning and beautifying the marriage estate. Climbing the hills of Nazareth, we look down into that beautiful vale where Joseph and Mary lived with Jesus during his boyhood days. We behold in the distance the field of Gilboa, where Saul and his sons were slain. We pass through Samaria, where we visit Jacob's well and Joseph's tomb. We go through Shiloh, where the tabernacle was first set up. At last Jerusalem is reached, where we visit Gethsemane's garden, Mount Moriah, where stood the temple, that sacred shrine of all that is dear to the Jewish heart; Calvary, with its cross, which is the hope of the world today."

SANTA MONICA.

A Mexican Ball at Ballona Results in a Big Fight.

SANTA MONICA, July 15.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Constable Dexter returned today with Louis Lopez, a Mexican, charged with assault to murder. It appears that on Saturday night a dance was given at Ballona among the Spanish residents, and some of the paisanos proceeded to add extra festivity to the occasion by a vigorous patronage of aguardiente. As a result Bacchus banished Terpsichore, and was in turn ousted by Mars, for a free fight commenced in which Don Louis Lopez drew a big six-shooter and commenced to use it as a club. He knocked out of time a couple of his comrades, and the meeting was summarily dismissed in confusion, the señoras and señoritas scattering like a flock of frightened sheep. Yesterday morning complaint was made to Justice Twichell, and a warrant for Lopez's arrest was placed in the hands of Deputy Constable Joe Donahue. He returned in the afternoon with two stories, one of which he told to his chief and the other to the Justice. Each yarn was contradictory of the other, one being that Lopez was in Los Angeles and the other that he was sick and could not be brought. While these stories were under discussion a man rode into town in hot haste and stated that Lopez was out again on a "high old lonesome," and was terrorizing the citizens of Ballona. Constable Dexter at once started out for the scene of action, and corraled his man this morning. At first he made signs of resisting arrest, but ultimately wilted and was brought to town. He will be taken to the County Jail forthwith.

This morning the big plunge bath on South Beach, known as the Crystal Plunge, was attached for $76 and costs on behalf of J. D. Hooker & Co., through W. H. Holmes's agency. Constable Dexter at once entered into possession, and brought all of the available property, consisting of 250 bathing suits and a number of towels, up town.

The French residents here are celebrating their holiday in glorious style today. Sixty of them went over to the cañon on a picnic, and had a big time, concluding with a ball in the evening.

In spite of the fact that there were over 4000 merry-makers in town yesterday, there were only three arrests on the justices' dockets this morning, and they were for fast driving.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Defense of Women Teachers.

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] In this morning's issue appears a letter from Mr. W. J. Kennard, regarding the appointment of women as teachers here, which shows clearly that the gentleman is laboring under several misapprehensions. With your kind permission I would like to correct these, if possible.

To begin with, I will state that, like him, I never have applied for a position in the Los Angeles schools, and never shall.

Your correspondent complains that the applications of "highly qualified and experienced" men, who have "successfully conducted schools in the past in this and other States," have been rejected by our board, who appointed instead women with no responsibility and laying no claim to greater proficiency.

When the Los Angeles Board of Education has dropped a man from the roll of teachers, we may be soon remembering its recent resolution, that it was for cause, and not from "maudlin sentiment," or any desire on their part to "pose as champions of the weaker sex." That they still made the appointments they did show that they recognized the efficiency of the women teachers and principals, and had the honor and manliness to make their appointments according to proficiency rather than sex; filling vacancies that occurred in the higher positions from among the tried women, rather than untried men, no matter how highly recommended. Mr. Kennard claims that the discipline in the higher grades of our public schools is lax. If this is true, is it any more so in the schools governed by women than in those under the supervision of men? Or were the children in the former less advanced in scholarship than those in the latter?

The question whether an applicant has others dependent upon him (though women quite as frequently have relatives to support as men) should not enter into the consideration of his or her appointment. Public schools are not eleemosynary institution intended to furnish a means of livelihood to the destitute. The good of the schools alone is to be aimed at in the election of teachers, and this is not always attained by the employment of men in the responsible positions. It is a well-known fact, of which, however, Mr. Kennard is probably ignorant, that men have repeatedly failed as principals in this city, and been succeeded by women who did well, and kept in order even that bete noir, the big boy.

European experiences can not be applied here. American women are educated under conditions differing so much from those surrounding their European sisters that they succeed in many things which, to the others, would be difficult or impossible. Moreover, in European countries women have never had an opportunity to show what they could do with older boys, so it is impossible to tell how they would succeed. Among Americans the fairest-minded educators admit that women generally equal men as teachers, and if Mr. Kennard's experience has been different it is not corroborrated by that of the majority of observers.

If there is any time when a man rather than a woman is needed to teach boys, it is not in the higher grades, when the boys already have some manliness and common sense, and can be acted upon by mental and moral means, but rather in the lower, the "intermediate" grades, where they are sometimes regular "little hoodlums," and often need physical force to restrain them. Yet it does not occur to Mr. Kennard that men should ever be appointed to these (or any other) subordinate positions. No; they are to have the principalships and women, also rate-payers, with the same brains, education, proficiency, and (that important element in Mr. Kennard's estimation) families to support—lacking nothing but the ballot and to remain subordinates. That is where the injustice comes in!

I believe there should be more men teachers. Perhaps it would be a good thing for our schools if men and women were appointed in about equal numbers—"share and share alike," as you suggest—but it should be "share and share" alike in reality—not the kernels to one sex and the hulls to the other. No doubt the School Board of Los Angeles would have appointed more men had more men applied for and been willing to take lower positions. It is more than probable that the applications from men were for principalships only. Where these were successfully filled by women, there was no reason why they should be removed to make room for untried men. If men were willing to begin on the lower rounds of the ladder, as women do (I venture to say there is not a woman principal in the city who did not begin as a subordinate), and win their laurels fairly, instead of wanting the best-paid and governing positions to begin with, there would be more men appointed.

Mr. Kennard says that women are weaker in mathematics and penmanship than men. As to the former, it is a well-known fact that women carry off as many of the prizes for mathematics in colleges and universities as men do, if not more; and girls generally outrank boys in this branch in our public schools. A woman took the Johns Hopkins University fellowship in mathematics in a competitive examination, and a woman filled the Chair of Mathematics for many years (perhaps still) at the University of Upsala in Sweden—one of the foremost European institutions.

Whether women, as a rule, are weaker in penmanship than men, I do not know; but after all that is merely a mechanical art and has nothing to do with mental or moral education. Besides, Los Angeles has a special male teacher for this branch, who has been retained, no doubt, because of his efficiency, not his sex.

If in this city any women principals have sent their children to schools having male principals, it was probably because they lived in the district belonging to the school of the latter, and children go to school in their own district. Now a teacher lives where he pleases, but teaches where the board pleases, and many teachers go long distances to their work, while their children may attend school in the next street. I doubt that any woman principal of this city sent her children out of their district in order to send them to schools with male principals.

Mr. Kennard also seems misinformed regarding the double sessions here. There are no double sets of principals. The principals teach a room themselves (with one exception), and get from $15 to perhaps $50 a month more than the ordinary teachers. Their assistants, and male principals of large schools have to have these as well as female, receive $10 over their ordinary salaries. This involves no very great expense to the city. The real "double sessions" are for two sets of scholars. These were not instituted to benefit teachers, but to accommodate more pupils in the same rooms. Neither men nor women were equal to the task of doing justice to from 75 to 100 pupils in two sets, teaching each set as much in four hours as others learned in six, and also correcting their exercises, etc. That was simply doing the work of two teachers. If they did it they should have double pay, and so nothing would be gained for the city. The ordinary double session of three hours each is carried on succesfully and without complaint by women when they have the use of a room for it, and it is considered best for the children.

To close, Mr. Editor, I thank Mr. Kennard for coming out openly with his objections against women teachers, and you for printing them, and also for so kindly and fairly giving the woman's side a hearing.

Hoping that Mr. Kennard et al. may become converted from "the error of their ways," I remain,

AN EX-TEACHER.

"Let All the People Sing."

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] It has come to be considered that the singing of hymns, and the general devotional exercises, are as much features of public worship as the sermon. In a leading church of this city this morning the pastor made use of these words: "Let all the people sing." In the possession of more than 80 people immediately surrounding the writer there was but one hymnbook, from which "all the people" were to gather the words and music. Fort-street M. E. Church, North, can you not do a little better than this for the ever-present

ANNUAL TRADE NUMBER,

—CONTAINING—

A COMPLETE RLVIEW OF THE YEAR.

Fifty-six Large Pages. Equivalent to a Two Hundred Page Book.

The Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES, now ready, is the most complete and interesting publication of that character ever published in Los Angeles.

NOTABLE FEATURES—It contains a business review of the year, embracing a great mass of valuable facts bearing on the city and county; a thorough exposition of our natural resources—mineral, vegetable, commercial and climatic; a review of the rise and progress of the boom, with solid proofs that the country is now in better condition than it was during the height of the real-estate excitement; a carefully compiled exposition of the varied inducements which Southern California offers to the health-seeker, the home-seeker and the tourist, besides a number of interesting and valuable special articles on pertinent subjects. It contains more solid information about the country than could be crowded into the compass of a hundred long letters, and for a few cents and the expenditure of a few minutes' time in writing the address you can send a friend more information than you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For, a dollar you can supply ten families in the frozen East with information that may lead them to join the army of pilgrims to Southern California, to their own and this country's advantage. Thus, whether viewed from the standpoint of friendship or self-interest it will be seen that no better use can be made of a dollar than by purchasing the new ten copies of the great Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES. Not one-tenth of the pleasure can be bestowed in any other way for the same amount of money.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The stock market today was quiet all the way out, but there was until the last hour a decidedly strong tone which raised quotations to a materially higher level than those of Saturday. Opening prices were generally from ⅛ to ¼ per cent. better than Saturday's closing figures, but Missouri Pacific was an exception with a gain of ⅜. Renewed inquiry for grangers, in which London was very prominent, resulted in an advance of 1¼ in Rock Island, while others gained fractional amounts. This afternoon Big Four stock rose 2 per cent. and the new C., C., C. and St. Louis preferred gained a like amount. The highest prices were reached by 2 o'clock. Realizations then began and Atchison led off with a drop of 1 per cent., followed by St. Paul and Missouri Pacific, the market finally closing quiet but weak, with most stocks at close to opening prices.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Fremont Camp, Sons of Veterans, will give a hop.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday went to Azusa and El Monte to investigate the bridges and roads in that section.

Rev. William A. Spencer, D.D., assistant secretary of the Church Extension Society of the M. E. Church will speak in Fort-street Church this evening, at 7:45 o'clock.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union telegraph office for Dr. C. D. Sufferd, W. C. Friske, Miss Lola Pennington, Carlton D. Allen, Mrs. J. C. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. J. O. Blakeley.

A horse attached to a wagon of the California Vinegar Works ran away yesterday afternoon, turning from Second street into Main and taking northward. Officer Hawley gave chase, climbed into the hind end of the wagon, secured the reins and stopped the race.

There was a lively fisticuff in a lodging-house on First street, yesterday, in which a Mr. Buck biffed a Mr. Southworth on the head, knocking him about six feet and raising a walnut on his front. The trouble was over an alleged debt of $5, which Buck claimed as due him.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following persons: Lorenzo Schmitt, aged 29, and Lina Thomas, aged 25, of Los Angeles; John Sweeney, aged 43, of Acton, and B. C. O'Neil, aged 32, of Los Angeles; Theodore French, aged 29, and Rosa Miller, aged 19, of Pasadena.

Rev. Dr. Hutchins, Judge McKinley, Dr. Sinsabaugh, Gen. H. G. Rollins and others will make short addresses at the meeting of citizens interested in the general hospital enterprise, to be held at the First Presbyterian Church, corner Fort and Second streets, at 8 o'clock this evening. The report of the committee on organization will be presented for discussion.

For the past three or four days an interesting celebration has been in progress in Chinatown, it being the reunion of the Hong Wa, a powerful Chinese secret society. The feast was inaugurated Friday morning with a big discharge of bombs and firecrackers, since which time the heathen have been enjoying themselves in great style. Several new gods have been set up, and some of the old ones pulled down, and a general cleaning up has been had.

Mlle. Prudence, the French prostitute arrested Saturday night for robbing an old man named Philmore, in a New High street "crib," was yesterday examined before Judge Stanton and discharged. Philmore could not swear that he had the amount alleged to have been stolen, $125, when he entered the place, and, as no money was found on the girl's person or in the house, there was absolutely no evidence against her, and hence the dismissal of the case.

Mrs. Lucretia Buxton, a middle-aged woman living at the old St. Vincent College building, at the corner of Fort and Sixth streets, was yesterday examined by a commission as to her sanity, and committed to the asylum at Napa. Mrs. Buxton has been mentally unsound for some time, but has lately developed into a raving maniac, being so violent that she had to be tied to prevent her from doing serious injury to herself. She has a husband and several children.

THE OIL FIELDS.

Product Increased Over Six Thousand Barrels a Month.

Several large oil wells have lately been drilled on claims of the Sespe and Hardison & Stewart oil companies in Ventura county, producing in the aggregate an increase of over six thousand barrels per month. The Oil Burning and Supply Company of this city, who market all the oil from that district, report largely increased receipts and orders to absorb the new production. The outlook for the year to come is for a greater production than they have ever had. A new territory recently opened is the Bard & Chaffee district, some three miles south of Buckhorn Station, on the Southern Pacific. Well No. 1 is producing now 40 barrels per day at 250 feet depth, and a pipe-line is being built to the railroad to transport this further production.

Diseases of Females.

OFFICE:

In the Hollenbeck Block, Cor. Spring and Second Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

Oxygen, Compound Oxygen, Nitrous Oxide, and other inhalations, used in all DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

We have introduced the compound oxygen treatment with our systems of practice in the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Insomnia, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Rheumatism and Nervous Prostration, while only the most improved methods are employed in all female complaints.

As is well known, Oxygen is the life-giving principle in the air we breathe, and Ozone in the air imparts that happy and buoyant feeling after thunder storms. Persons often require more oxygen than is in the air around them, and cause doors and windows to be opened, tear off collars, loosen the waist, and call for a fan to displace the stifling and bring fresher air or more oxygen. Traveling is done mainly to resorts where the air contains more oxygen, and mountains are ascended to breathe the Ozone, which is light and ascends from the earth.

Oxygen and Ozone are gases, and must be stored up and used by inhaling them. Our apparatus for storing and having these gases compounded with other suitable agents is perfect, and though they are not a cure-all, yet they are undoubtedly the greatest invention made in the last twenty years in any department of medicine, and the results are truly wonderful.

Oxygen acts by purifying the blood. Thereby increases the circulation, promotes absorption, improves digestion and assimilation, increases the capability of the lungs, and acts as a gentle stimulant to the nervous system.

The London, Eng., Lancet, very truthfully says: "The compound oxygen treatment is the greatest discovery of the nineteenth century." Clergymen, Statesmen, Lawyers, Doctors and all classes indiscriminately, wherever it is introduced, both use and recommend it.

The testimonials given below are very fair samples as to the time required for effecting cures in these troublesome cases:

Dr. Williams—DEAR SIR: I am happy to say that the cure you effected in me for a severe case of throat disease has proved to be permanent. For over a year I was troubled with post-nasal catarrh and granulated throat disease, and had done so much for it that I had but little hopes of ever being cured, when I first went to you, but you gave me such positive assurance that you could cure me that I began your treatment, and in four months from that time you discharged me as cured, and I am happy to say the cure was a permanent thing in every particular up to the present time, which is now over a year. Yours very truly, MRS. LUCY R. TRASK,
809 South Olive street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city, to whom I could have referred, when I first came to Los Angeles from my home in New York State.

I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent benefit, and as a last resort our family physician recommended Los Angeles. For a time I improved, and then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medical friend I was induced to try your treatment. I became very much discouraged at times, but persevered, as I felt almost desperate and knew of nothing else to turn to. My throat trouble being aggravated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with your remedies, I consider I am permanently cured. If this will be of any value to you you are at perfect liberty to use it; also to refer any one to my mother, my husband or myself. Very truly yours,
MRS. J. D. WILEY,
Los Angeles, Cal.

Cheap Land -:- Good Land.

Dr. E. T. Barber of Lancaster, Antelope Valley, Los Angeles county, Cal., offers 30,000 acres of land for sale, in tracts of 20 acres and upward, at $5 to $0 per acre, with liberal terms and title guaranteed.

This valley has raised the premium wheat of the world; sugar beets at the rate of 213 tons to the acre; barley hay, three tons; eight crops of alfalfa in one year; parsnips seven inches in diameter, and is competent to compete with Spain for raisins, and France for champagne.

All this land offered can be covered with mountain water, and has good surface and artesian water, and much of it has a subsoil irrigation.

The railroad facilities are good; the Southern Pacific Railroad now crosses it, and three other great railroads are expected to do so in the near future.

Climate good—no cyclones, blizzards, fogs or malaria.

Antelope Valley is the hope of the poor, a boon to men of moderate means, and a bonanza to keen-sighted business men.
